NORTHAMPTON TOWN WOMEN MANAGEMENT TEAM LOOKING FOR A REACTION ON THURSDAY

Northampton Town Women joint-managers Josh Oldfield and Liam Williams are seeking a reaction after their side lost away to Loughborough Lightning in the FA Women's National League Division One Midlands on Sunday.

The Cobblers' opponents were relegated from the FAWNL Northern Premier Division last season.

"It's a disappointing one because we were below our standards and not at our best," Oldfield said.

"Loughborough moved the ball really well and are a well-drilled side, so we knew it was going to be a difficult game coming into it.

"You don't give yourself a chance of picking points up in this league when you're not at your best.

"We'll dust ourselves down, get back to training and move on to the next game."

The Cobblers' fixture against Solihull Moors is their third league match.

"The next game is coming around quickly and it's an opportunity to put things right," Williams added.

"It'll be another tough game, but we're looking for a positive reaction and a better performance.

"There's another tough one around the corner away to Lincoln City on Sunday.

"We want to compete against these teams at this level, so we'll be looking for two positive results next week."
