NORTHAMPTON TOWN WOMEN RETURNING TO SIXFIELDS

Northampton Town Women's FA Women's National League Division One Midlands fixture at home to Sporting Khalsa on Sunday 10th March 2024 will be played at the stadium, kicking-off at 2pm, in celebration of International Women's Day.

Josh Oldfield and Liam Williams' side have had a successful second season in the fourth tier so far, securing a place in the top half of the table at the midpoint of the campaign.

Their opponents are the division's in-form side, having remained unbeaten in their final seven league matches leading up to February. They won six games of those games and scored 39 goals during the run.

Scott Loughran, Women's and Girls' Development Officer at the Northampton Town Community Trust, is eagerly anticipating the fixture.

"We are very excited to be returning to Sixfields," he said.

"It's a great opportunity for us to come together and show our support for the women's game.

"Our attendances have been increasing year-on-year, and we want to break our record crowd of 1,025."
